FOUR ULSTER SPECIAL CONSTABLES SHOT TO DEATH AT R.R. STATION

Members of the Irish Republican Army Attack Specials at Clones Saturday—Several Were Wounded and Captured—Sir James Craig Will Offer Remonstrance

(By The Associated Press)
BELFAST, Feb. 11.—Four Ulster special constables were shot to death, a number wounded, and the remainder of a party of twenty captured at the railroad station at Clones today.
The specials on their way to Ennis Killen, were waiting at Clones for the arrival of a train from Belfast to convey them to their destinations.
The train had entered the station and some of the specials were in the act of getting into the carriages when Irish Republican army men with a machine gun came upon the platform. The Republican men fled.
Taken absolutely unaware the specials had no time to fire a shot at the attacking party.

OPPOSITION TO BONUS SCHEDULE IS CROPPING OUT

Representative of National Grange Sends Letter

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Feb. 11.—Opposition to the soldiers' bonus schedule as drawn by the Republican sub-committee of the house ways and means committee was voiced today by P. C. Atkeson, Washington representative of the National Grange, and H. C. McKenzie, tax representative of the American farm bureau federation. Mr. Atkeson in a letter sent to Chairman Fordney, declared that the bonus program "violates every principle of taxation endorsed by the recent agricultural conference."

"If more money must be raised to pay a soldiers' bonus," his letter said, "it should be raised without burdening the public with further annoying, business preventing and objectionable tax schemes and it should be raised by re-enactment and re-extension of the excess profits tax."

Mr. McKenzie also urged re-enactment of the profits tax stating that this single source of revenue would produce all the money necessary for the bonus and obviate the frictions which would be developed by raising the parcel post rates, taxing gasoline and automobiles and the increased annoyance caused by the stamp tax.

RAILROAD MEN TO MEET WITH MINERS

(By The Associated Press)
INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Feb. 11.—Acceptance by the railroad union chiefs of an invitation for a meeting with officers of the United Mine Workers to discuss a proposed alliance of 2,000,000 workers to fight against any wage reductions was announced today by President John L. Lewis of the miners' union who set the meeting for February 21 at Chicago.

The meeting will follow closely on the heels of the miners' special convention here next week which is expected to declare against taking any cut in wages when present agreements with operators expire on March 31, and possibly asking for an increase.

Mr. Lewis' announcement of the Chicago meeting to discuss the proposed "defective alliance" said that 15 of the 16 major rail unions including all the big brotherhoods, had accepted the invitation.

The letter sent to the rail chiefs announcing the meeting date referred to the Chicago gathering as "the initial meeting" indicating that several gatherings were possible before a final decision is reached.

A formal statement by Mr. Lewis said it was "his firm conviction" that the Chicago meeting will be fruitful of results.

THOMAS EDISON OBSERVED HIS 75TH BIRTHDAY

Inventor Says He Has Just Fifteen More Left

(By The Associated Press)
WEST ORANGE, N. J., Feb. 11.—Thomas A. Edison, inventor and electrical wizard, has just 15 years more of service for humanity in him.

This was perhaps the most important statement he made in his annual interview with newspapermen today on the occasion of his seventy-fifth birthday.

Smilingly facing a little army of reporters and news and movie photographers who waylaid him on his way from his home to his laboratory, he answered questions on every subject the reporters could think of.

"I hope you will have several more birthdays," said one reporter.
"I shall have fifteen more," said Mr. Edison simply.

A moment before he had answered a question as to when he intended to retire, with "never." Asked what he was working on at present, Mr. Edison said he had several "red hot irons in the fire," but that he wasn't ready to talk about them as none were completed.

The inventor placed Theodore Roosevelt at the head of a list of great men he had met. He picked Sarah Bernhardt as "the greatest woman," declaring she was "still full of pepper."

He thought his friend Henry Ford would make a poor president, as "that was not in his line," but declared he would vote twice to elect Mr. Ford president of industry.

Would Support Ford.
He said he would give Ford his full support if the automobile manufacturer obtained Muscle Shoals from the government.

He thought the French delegation to the arms conference headed by Albert Sarraut, French minister of colonies, sailed for home today.

The party included besides M. Sarraut, Maurice Casanove, former French high commissioner here, Admiral Delfon of the French navy, Albert Kammerer, general secretary of the delegation and a score of military attaches, under secretaries and clerks.

M. Sarraut issued the following statement:
"I am taking away with me the fondest recollection of my stay in the United States. I came here with the very deepest feelings of appreciation for American government and the other nations. All the provisions in the limitations of armament have been very good measures. I feel sure that the example set will be followed by the other nations of the world."

"I shall cherish the memory of the confidence which has been welded between America and France."

"I am very proud to have been able to bring my cooperation to the great arms conference which I consider to have had the best results in reaching the ends sought for. I am confident that the conference has succeeded in fulfilling the wishes of the American government and the other nations. All the provisions in the limitations of armament have been very good measures. I feel sure that the example set will be followed by the other nations of the world."

COMMANDER PAYS TRIBUTE TO LINCOLN

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Feb. 11.—Abraham Lincoln typifies to every American the rugged honesty and high integrity we like to associate with our ideals for our country and its institutions, Hamford MacNider, National Commander of the American Legion, said in a statement here today.

"The men and women of The American Legion offering as they do, voluntarily, insurance of the nation for the preservation of its lawful government have no other ambition than to serve as useful constructive citizens; than to be guided by principles and precepts of the man we honor today," said the statement. "Lincoln's endeavors were ever to strengthen the moral fabric of this Republic to counteract those forces that weaken and destroy. He felt the proper care and consideration for the veterans who fought the battles for America's defense one of the most important and constructive forces to that end."

"The American Legion has for its principal reason for being that America stay the way we fought that it might stay—American. We propose to do this constructively—tho a real and righteous consciousness of our duties as American citizens that the principles of which Lincoln has given us such high example may be ever strengthened and maintained."

WANT LEVIATHAN CONDITIONED AT BOSTON NAVY YARD

Supporters of That Yard Win in Senate Fight

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Feb. 11.—Supporters of the move to obtain for the Boston navy yard the job of conditioning the giant liner, Leviathan, won out in the senate today, but statements made late by shipping board officials indicated that the victory might be of no avail. The senate adopted an amendment to the independent appropriation bill providing that unless the president should direct otherwise a money appropriated by the bill for the shipping board would be used for reconditioning any government vessels until available navy yards have been given an opportunity to prepare an estimate as to the cost of such work within the limit of the time in which the work is to be done.

Shipping board officials recalled the statement made yesterday for the board on highest authority that the contract for reconditioning the big former German vessel would be let Wednesday to the lowest of the private bidders who recently submitted offers unopposed by congress. These officials of the board said that today's amendment would not act as a prohibition inasmuch as the money to be used in re-outfitting the Leviathan for trans-Atlantic passenger service was available from the $55,000,000 total received by the board from the sale of surplus stocks. The lowest bid by private yards received by the board was that of the Newport News Shipbuilding and Dry Dock company.

As the newspapermen left, he plunged into his laboratory to work on his "red hot irons."

Friends, Congratulations.
ETROIT, Mich., Feb. 11.—Congratulating Thomas A. Edison, his close personal friend on his 75th birthday anniversary, Henry Ford today wired the inventor:
"Please accept my hearty congratulations on your 75th birthday. At that age most men's work is done. Your's is just beginning. The world needs to be shown the way out of its confusion and you can greatly help."

ALLEGED BANKRUPT IS UNDER ARREST

(By The Associated Press)
CHICAGO, Feb. 11.—Involuntary bankruptcy proceedings were instituted today before Federal Judge K. M. Landis against R. J. Bischoff, of Chicago, whose financial operations are said by his creditors to have involved hundreds of Chicagoans, mostly foreigners.

Two hours after the bankruptcy petition was filed Judge Landis issued a warrant for Bischoff's arrest. The warrant was issued by the Central Trust company, named as receiver having stated there was danger of Bischoff leaving the court's jurisdiction.

According to three petitioners who hold Bischoff's note for $1,000 he has handled hundreds of thousands of dollars of money of Chicago's foreign born population during the past two years. It is contended he secured money on promise of large returns and in some instances actually paid from 10 to 100 per cent interest to win the confidence of those with whom he dealt.

TARIFF VALUATIONS PLANS DISCUSSED

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Feb. 11.—Tariff valuations plans were the subject of another White House conference today attended by Chairman McCumber and Senator Smoot of the Senate finance committee; Chairman Fordney of the house ways and means committee and Secretary Weeks. After their visit the committee-men said the valuation situation was unchanged. It was understood that Secretary Weeks made some suggestions as to the basic principle of the proposed permanent tariff measure.

MANY EMPLOYEES OF NAVY YARD RELEASED

WASHINGTON, Feb. 11.—The number of employees released at the navy yards by the suspension of capital ship construction has now passed the 4,000 mark but no further material reductions are anticipated, it was said today at the navy department.

FLOWERS' CASE IS REOPENED BY JUDGE CARPENTER

Court Then Sentences Flowers to 30 Days in Jail

(By The Associated Press)
CHICAGO, Feb. 11.—The case of Walter Flowers, confessed bootlegger, who complained when sentenced to jail a few days ago that he "had paid good money" to have his case dropped, was re-opened today by Federal Judge Carpenter.

Flowers' charges that he had paid nearly $3,000 to Samuel McGowan to "fix" his case, resulted in the questioning by Judge K. M. Landis of Colonel John V. Clinch, assistant district attorney and other federal officials.

Judge Carpenter asked Harry Brin, assistant district attorney, if he thought Flowers should have a more severe sentence, stating that was the reason the matter had been reopened. Mr. Brin said he saw no reason for imposing a longer sentence and Judge Carpenter sentenced Flowers to serve 30 days in jail, sentence starting at once.

INTERNATIONAL VILLAIN CAN GET BIG MONEY

Picture Producers Want to Hire "Man Without a Country"

NEW YORK, Feb. 11.—American motion picture producers announced today that if the "man without a country" will consent to play the international villain, they will make him the highest salaried person in the movies.

The announcement was prompted, it was said by recent threats of foreign governments to ban the films of its citizens in unpopular roles.

Mexico was the latest to put its foot on the display of propaganda pictures when G. S. Sengul, consul general of the Obregon government, informed American producers that the government will find it necessary to stop the importation to Mexico of all films produced by companies which continue to manufacture films derogatory to Mexico. It was intimated that ill-feeling toward Mexico had inflamed in Central and South American countries by pictures in which the Mexican was portrayed as a villain.

"The trouble rests largely in the fact that pictures do not reach those countries until several years after they are made," one producer explained. "When the United States and Mexico were at odds, in the years following 1916 the Mexican was a favorite character for the villain role."

AGENCIES ARE HELD RESPONSIBLE

CHICAGO, Feb. 11.—Labor ex-ploiters with the government agencies they control have artificially created a period of depression resulting in the idleness of 6,000,000 workers for the purpose of lengthening hours and reducing wages, according to a resolution unanimously adopted at a meeting here today of state labor organizations.

This resolution, embodied in the report of the organization's executive committees places approximately 500,000 workers in Illinois on record as opposing legislation enacted providing for compulsory arbitration "the establishment of a military strike breaking agency, clothed with authority of law," and the issuance in industrial disputes of injunctions by the judiciary which substitute for the law "the wishes of the corporations."

TAYLOR'S HOUSE MAN QUESTIONED BY AUTHORITIES

Appeared Before District Attorney Again Yesterday

(By The Associated Press)
LOS ANGELES, Cal., Feb. 11.—Henry Peavey, who was the houseman for William D. Taylor, murdered film director, was escorted today to the office of District Attorney Woolwine by two deputy sheriffs. At the office the deputies, Peavey, Woolwine, W. C. Doran, his chief deputy and a court reporter were sequestered for several hours. A half hour after the conference began, Captain L. Adams, of the Los Angeles police department, who has charge of the police investigation joined the other officers.

Peavey had given several statements including a very extended one taken by the police. All of his stories have had to do with the life of Mr. Taylor in the months that Peavey was employed by him and with occurrences surrounding the finding of Mr. Taylor's body, bearing a revolver bullet wound in the director's home last week. The taking of a new statement under the circumstances existing today was deemed to mean that further investigation of the sheriff's theory of jealousy as a possible motive for the crime was to be made by all the officers employed on the case.

Other than the examination of Peavey apparently little of importance transpired today in the murder inquiry.

Peavey left the office after being closeted with the officials about an hour.

"I've nothing to say," he told reporters. "I've just told my story over again to Mr. Woolwine."

Under Sheriff Biscailuze and Captain Adams came out a little later.

"I cannot say that anything new has developed from the questioning of Peavey," Biscailuze said. "However, that does not mean that no new angle of investigation has been discovered. Will have to check up on certain matters before we can determine that."

Publicity Man Calls.
Ted Taylor, former publicity man for the slain director, accompanied by his wife, called at the district attorney's office late in the afternoon and said that they wished to discuss certain theories they had about the tragedy. Mr. Woolwine talked with them for a few minutes, then left them escorted by a detective.

The district attorney said that everyone he had questioned about the case told a "straightforward story without hesitancy or the slightest indication of an attempt to conceal anything."

Mr. Woolwine mentioned by name Mary Miles Minter film actress well acquainted with the slain director, saying her story had been "frank and straightforward."

Mr. Woolwine said some "vague surmises" concerning the case, but "no real theories" had been advanced by some of those he questioned.

"Practically every one has mentioned the name of Edward F. Sande, Taylor's former secretary who is missing," the district attorney said. "We still believe it is a matter of great importance to get in touch with that man."

CHARGES PRESIDENT WITH VIOLATION OF CIVIL SERVICE LAWS

Senator Pat Harrison Has Another Eruption in the United States Senate—Sheds Tears at Seeing Democrats Lose Their Jobs—Says Harding Stamped Law Under Foot

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Feb. 11.—Charges of violating the civil service laws were made against President Harding today in the senate by Senator Harrison, Democrat, Mississippi in an attack upon Republican management of governmental affairs.

In appointing French Crow as postmaster of Marion, Ohio, his home city, by executive order, Senator Harrison said Mr. Harding stamped the law under foot. The appointment which Senator Harrison announced he would oppose and urged be discussed on the floor of the senate, was, he declared, "the most glaring incident in the history of civil service in the United States."

Senator Harrison also attacked Chairman Lasker, of the shipping board, declaring he had made statements regarding its alleged economy of administration which had not been borne out and also criticized an appropriation bill provision extending the annual $25,000 travelling allowance of the president for use of official entertainment purposes.

Chairman Warren of the appropriations committee defended the travel-entertainment fund and called attention to the expenditures abroad of former President Wilson.

Senator Warren said that "some millions of dollars," had been spent by Mr. Wilson, "and no accounting made for it yet."

That Senator Harrison was seeking to inject partisan politics into the discussion was charged by Senator Warren while Mr. Harrison countered with the statement that Senator Warren had raised the question of partisanship.

Civil service administration also was attacked again by Senator Caraway, Democrat, Arkansas, and others. Senator Caraway read a letter from the commission denying his recent charges that examination marks had been read arbitrarily and then reiterated the charges citing alleged instances in Arkansas postmaster cases. Senator Caraway also charged that former service men had been "turned down" in seeking positions as postmasters.

Senator Harrison said it was "a farce the way postmasters are appointed."

Other appointments, he added, were subject to the same indictment.

Without Republican political influence, he declared, there was no chance to get a job under this administration.

WIRTH IS FACING CRITICAL POINT WITH REICHSTAG

Forces Showdown but His Supporters Fail Him

(By The Associated Press)
BERLIN, Feb. 11.—Chancellor Wirth has met one of the most critical parliamentary situations of his career by forcing a "showdown" with the reichstag in connection with the impending vote on four resolutions ensuring the cabinet for its policy during the railroad strike.

The coalition parties failed to protect the chancellor by sending a supporting resolution to the president's desk leaving him at the mercy of the four opposition motions proposed by the Nationalists, the German people's party, the Independent Socialists and the Communists.

Altho each of these resolutions was certain to be defeated by the votes of the present government bloc, it was realized that collectively their effort would have spelled parliamentary disaster for Dr. Wirth as the moral stigma, carried by them would not have been neutralized by the indirect majority support given to the chancellor by the clericals, the majority socialists and the Democrats who could give sufficient votes to defeat the opposition's attack on the cabinet.

Wirth Asks for Confidence.
Visible impatience with this passive attitude on the part of his principle support, brought Chancellor Wirth to his feet just before the hostile resolutions were put to a vote today. Rising from his seat, his voice quivering with emotion, the chancellor in a brief but impassioned plea, demanded that the reichstag give him a tangible and unequivocal expression of its confidence.

A negative result of the vote on the four opposition resolutions, the chancellor declared, would suffice to make the cabinet position untenable.

This unexpected attitude dumbfounded both the opposition and the government parties and the latter scurried about in a hasty effort to draft a resolution of direct approval. The house finally voted to defer balloting until Wednesday. Dr. Wirth, it is asserted, can count on decisive vote of approval on his railway strike policy.

The session supplied a second sensation when the independent socialist leader, Herr Dittmar, demanded an investigation of Hugo Stinnes' alleged attempt to barter the German railway system to an English banking syndicate in return for a gold loan. Stinnes' friends in the reichstag came to the maine's assistance and action was postponed.

The public will not feel badly, no matter how far the price fight between General Motors and Henry Ford progresses. They will look on with interest, quite willing to make the most of any further cut prices that may result either for tractors or automobiles.

As a forerunner of some other cuts that may be expected, the railroads have let it be known that 20 percent reductions in tourist rates to the west may be expected next summer. That will be a revival of an almost obsolete custom, but one which was very satisfactory to a lot of people. A 20 percent cut on a railroad ticket to Colorado or a still further point west, means a real saving to the tourist.

Leo O'Neill Browne hasn't been heard from yet with reference to the new constitution plan which, if approved, would bar minority representation in the legislature. Year after year Mr. Browne has come back from the Ottawa district as minority representative. Without that system of cumulative voting he will probably remain at home.

They had a special campaign a year or two ago for the erection of houses in Decatur. Evidently the situation was not thoroughly relieved. The other day a child died from pneumonia contracted from exposure. The family has been living in a tent because of inability to secure a house. The mother and father are now both in a hospital.

The radiophone which makes it possible to gather in the wave sounds from hundreds of miles away and thus listen to concerts and lectures and other forms of entertainment, is almost too wonderful to describe. The apparatus is adjusted to sound waves of certain lengths and others are excluded, so that no confusion results from the multiplicity of sounds in the air.

With such an achievement becoming a matter of common usage it's idle to speculate about what other developments may come within the next few years. The results from the radio apparatus almost surpass belief, yet other developments just as wonderful can be expected.

It is unfortunate that some of the individuals who are constantly railing about the government's neglect of ex-service men at insane hospitals, cannot visit the hospital here. It is claimed that in some hospitals men whose mental faculties were impaired during the war are sleeping on floors and so generally neglected that they are losing any chance of recuperation and a restoration to a normal state of mind.

If these things exist they are in direct contrast to the conditions which prevail at the occupational center the government maintains here at Jacksonville State hospital. Here every possible attention is given the men and they have all the comforts that can come to them with present facilities, the state having made provision for special quarters and before this year is past, everything possible in the way of equipment and care will have been given the ex-service men quartered at Jacksonville State hospital. No particular credit should be claimed for this situation for the men are being given the treatment that they deserve.

FARMING BUSINESS CHIRKS UP.

Now that we've got a good running start into 1922, we see this is going to be a bigger and a better year for agriculture with more prosperity for people dependent upon farming. This is not a prophecy, but a fact that is now in process of fulfillment—a blessed business fact, regardless of pending conferences or rampant agricultural blocs in congress.

We're all tired of talking and thinking hard times, and back in the country we're beginning to grin again. Now and then some professional worrier breaks out in a wall, but you don't join in the chorus. You just say, "Oh, well, he's getting paid for it." That's part of his job, and you're willing that he should do what he jolly well can to earn his wages. I've been neglecting the nabobs for a change, and interviewing the fellows back in the open country and the small towns and I find there is a distinct disposition to chirk up. "We've had a slump, and it was some slump," they say, "but the worst is past." And the normal man, when he once admits that things are on the mend, soon forgets about his passing troubles in the courageous effort to work out his position for the future.—George L. Daniels in Farm Life.

THEME OF MASQUERADE PARTY IS OUTLINED. Rehearsals for "The Masquerade Party," the Social Service League benefit to be staged Feb. 16 and 17, are progressing satisfactorily. Lines are being committed and the members of the cast are singing their songs and learning the dance steps. All looks well for a successful production, and even Jacksonville may be surprised at the wealth of talent. The producing company assures elaborate costuming.

The following is the theme of the two act musical comedy: John and Sissie Weber, brother and sister, are just home from college for vacation. They find the "home town" and the home folks rather dull, so decide on a house party for their schoolmates.

To wake up Father and Mother Weber, and to put their rich aunt, the Crabbed Village Parson and the Official Chaplain in good humor they give "The Masquerade Party."

John Loves Grace Loveland and Sissie finds Billy Donnelly all that her heart can ask for. The Parson and the Chaplain begin to enjoy life in spite of themselves, and a mutual admiration ensues.

Father and the Parson wear similar masquerades and "the plot thickens." Bridget, the cook, and Jimmy Weber's handy man, philosophize on life as they see it. There is much singing and dancing. Cupid finally sets his own and all ends happily in the Grand Finale.

YOUNGEST VETERAN IS ENROLED HERE

Jacksonville Post of the American Legion Has Member Who Enlisted While Thirteen Years of Age.

An item in the Yanks and Legionnaires column which appears each Sunday morning in the Journal recently referred to Stephen F. Tilman as the youngest war veteran in the U. S. Tilman enlisted at 14 years of age and the publication of his story by the American Legion post at Washington, D. C., brought movie offers and other publicity.

Now the Jacksonville post of the Legion has "called" the Washington story with the claim that Joseph William Bridges of Custer, Mo., but a member of the Jacksonville post, is the youngest veteran.

This youthful soldier enlisted before his 14th birthday and was for several years in the service, having received his final discharge August 27, 1921. Bridges is a brother of Ralph E. Bridges, an operator at the Wabash station. He is very large for his age and is much more mature in appearance than is usually true of a lad of his years.

Bridges was born July 28, 1901, and his first enlistment was July 18, 1918, at Jefferson Barracks, Mo., where he became a member of Co. 1 of the 20th regiment in the 10th division. He served more than three years in the army and now at the age of 17 has received an honorable discharge. The first discharge was April 24, 1919, when he immediately re-enlisted and was again discharged in April, 1920. In December of that year he re-enlisted and then as indicated came the final discharge in August, 1921.

The Jacksonville post challenges the whole U. S. on this "youngest veteran" record.

CHICAGO NAMES SCHOOL FOR NEWTON BATEMAN

R. M. Hitch, a district superintendent of schools in the city of Chicago, recently wrote here to Otto Spieth about the possibility of securing a life size portrait of Newton Bateman. One of the new Chicago school buildings has been named in honor of Dr. Bateman, whose name is so prominently identified with the history of public education in Illinois. Thus it appears that Chicago is following the lead of Jacksonville in naming a school building in memory of this eminent educator.

OFFICIAL REPORT

"This vivid, swift-moving picture is the peer of oriental dramas on the screen. It has the true atmosphere of an Arabian Nights tale and must rank as one of the exceptional photoplays of the year. It has both dramatic intensity and comic relief of an unusual order. The acting of Pola Negri may be said to be the finest and most convincing of her career before the American public, and the supporting cast is one of great ability."

Clothes

And the Man

—There's a big difference between a dolled-up dude and a well-dressed man.

—You can see the difference on the outside, but the big difference is on the inside.

—It's the same difference that distinguishes good clothes from clothes that merely attract attention by offending good taste.

—Good clothes, such as those built to the man by ALBERT RENNER, president of this company, have that enduring quality of workmanship in them that never wears out.

—Wear them every day and Sunday, too, if you want to. Wear them until they're frayed, if you will. But the longer you wear them, the better they hang, the better they feel on you, the better they FIT. They will always look like GOOD clothes.

—Ask MR. RENNER to show you the selection of fabrics available for that kind of clothes!

Forceful Facts Concerning the Interests of Former Soldiers, Sailors and Marines.

In France, a blind soldier receives 6,000 francs annually. Of the more than 200,000 unemployed in New York City, approximately 75,000 are former service men.

Since January 1, more than 20,000 new members have been enrolled in the American Legion in Pennsylvania. The Zeppelin delivered in France by Germany are regarded as a useless expense, and not practical in warfare.

Training of 3,000 officers and 20,000 men in the nine army corps areas in the United States during the coming summer is planned by the War Department. The price of discharge in the United States army varies according to years of service, $120 after one year's service, down to $30 after 11 years' service.

Of the former service men of the United States army, 9,000 named Smith are members of the American Legion. There are 8,000 Johnsons in the organization.

In eighteen National Guard divisions an average of 65 per cent, complete units reported, with New York 96 per cent, and Pennsylvania 94 per cent complete.

Altho offered $2,000 just to fire a gun, Sgt. Alvin York, hero of the World War, has refused, because he learned a picture was to be taken of it for advertising purposes.

According to new army regulations an allowance of $308 for clothing is made for each American soldier who enlists for three year period. The uniforms are to be tailor made.

American troops with the Army of Occupation on the Rhine number 5,600, as compared with 15,000 a year ago; the entire allied forces in Germany now number 118,000.

In the United States navy, there are 110,024 white sailors, 5,545 Filipinos, 2,385 Negroes, 194 Chinese, 88 Japanese, 133 Samoans, 249 Chamorros, 296 Hawaiians, and 197 Porto Ricans.

Since the French Legion of Honor was founded by Napoleon, there are 120,000 members in France, 70,000 of whom were commended for war deeds. Legionnaires abroad number 22,000.

In Great Britain the war department is substituting motor tractors for horses in every branch of the Royal Artillery. The change will enable the Government to make a ten per cent reduction in the personnel.

Near-pink breeches for commissioned officers, tailored uniforms for enlisted men, and new model service caps designed from a more jaunty fashion plate, are changes in the United States army dress regulations.

A memorial to the late F. W. Galbraith, Jr., former national commander of the American Legion is to be erected in Cincinnati, Ohio. The structure, costing $25,000, will be built on a site overlooking the Ohio river.

Bonus payments to former soldiers are exempt from the Federal income tax levy. The money thus received comes under the classification of adjusted compensation for war service and does not have to be included in the tax return.

By borrowing American Legion buttons, prisoners in the Los Angeles county jail have fraudulently obtained sympathy in the Courts on the ground of "war records." Investigations show that one button and one war record have served for a large number of prisoners.

Setting aside the rules of the United States Civil Service Commission, Paul A. Bazar, of Rochester, N. Y., whose both hands were blown off by an officers' training camp at Longos, France, after the armistice, has been appointed a clerk of the Veterans' Bureau of his city, my a special order of President Harding.

France has six unidentified living "polius," who are insane. These men, whose memories are a complete blank as the results of horrors undergone during the World War, are being cared for by the Government, which is seeking to establish their identity. They have been visited by thousands of persons, but none recognized them. Their photographs and detained descriptions are to be sent to the metropolitan and provincial press in hopes that their relatives can be found.

General Feshing recently declined to accept a Distinguished Service Cross, voted him by the Army Board of Awards, for extraordinary heroism in action against hostile fanatic Moros at Mount Bagask, Jolo, Philippine Islands, on June 15, 1913. He had previously declined reward of the Medal of Honor for the same exploit. General Pershing explained his refusal by saying that he did not consider his action "measured up to the high standards set in the American Expeditionary Forces, and that he had disapproved hundreds of reconnaissance missions for the D. S. C., based on acts more deserving."

The Art of Wearing Rings

Never wear two diamond rings close together; a better effect will be had if a turquoise, opal or emerald is placed between.

Do not wear a ruby next a plain gold ring for beauty is lost in that way; a ring with pearls or small diamonds adds much to the fire of rubies.

If you have a large or gorgeous ring, wear no other on that hand.

Never wear an antique or an odd ring and a modern setting at the same time.

The big, strong hand appears to better advantage with just the heavy signet ring, although one large set ring may be used.

If a ring is worn on the index finger the rest of the hand must be ringless.

The whiter the hand the more brilliant appear the gems worn, and a little study of contrasts will enable milady to avoid incongruities in jewelry, as well as wearing apparel.

We will be glad to give personal advice on this subject to any one desiring it.

SWIFT AND COMPANY MARKET REVIEW

Deliveries of cream during the week have been lighter than during the previous week. There is a well-sustained demand for butter, with higher prices ruling at the close of the week, resulting in higher prices for butterfat in producing sections.

There has been a seasonal demand for fresh eggs and while receipts are increasing, prices have ruled fairly steady during the week. As production increases prices may be expected to work lower.

The market for live and dressed poultry has shown little change during the week, although there has been a full supply available.

The marketing of fowl will probably not continue on such a large scale during the next few months, as producers will no doubt be inclined to hold them back for egg production.

ELEVATOR AT HILLVIEW DESTROYED BY FIRE

Elevator Owned by V. C. Elmore Destroyed by Fire Saturday Morning — Business Buildings and Dwellings Also Destroyed — Loss Probably $25,000.

WHITE HALL, Feb. 11 — The elevator at Hillview, nine miles west of here, was totally destroyed by fire at about 11 o'clock Saturday morning. The fire originated from the cob burner next to the elevator. The flames communicating to the cleaning apparatus in the third floor of the elevator. The flames had gained such headway when discovered that it was impossible to check them and the elevator and several adjacent buildings were destroyed.

The elevator was owned by V. C. Elmore of Ashland and was well equipped with machinery. Four or five thousand bushels of corn and about 240 bushels of wheat and oats were also destroyed. The capacity of the elevator was 20,000 bushels of ear corn. The elevator loss was about $20,000 while the loss to adjacent buildings will probably bring the total up to $25,000, only partially covered by insurance.

The C. R. Angle store building to the south of the elevator was a total loss. The lower floor of this building was occupied by a poultry house, while the upper floor was occupied by Walter Ballard as a residence. The contents of the poultry house were saved, but Mr. Ballard lost a part of his household goods, the loss being about $400.

Another building destroyed was a frame one belonging to E. N. Ford. In this structure was stored a quantity of merchandise and the loss was total. A building owned by John M. Hurst of Jacksonville was also destroyed, together with some billiard hall equipment. A residence to the south of the latter building owned by George Terhune and occupied by Irwin Blitt as a residence was also burned. A portion of the furniture was saved.

A small residence owned by Irvin Wetzell and occupied by Walter Hostenet was also taken by the flames, with only a small part of the furnishings saved.

To the west of the destroyed section stands the residence of W. E. Jones. It was feared that fire would communicate to this structure and all the furniture was removed, but the building was only slightly damaged.

The White Hall chemical engine was called to the aid of the Hillview department and the firemen fought desperately to control the flames, but were unable to do so until after great property loss had resulted.

There is a small elevator at Hillview owned by Mr. Elmore and this will be used during the present year or until the burned building can be replaced.

Queen Incubators Built to Hatch Without Trouble

QUEEN Incubators are famous for their large hatches of strong, healthy chicks that grow.

The Queen is accurately regulated, taking care of a temperature variation of 70 degrees without danger. It is built of genuine Redwood—very scarce in these days of imitation and substitution. Redwood does not absorb the odor from hatching eggs. Cheaper woods and pasteboard lining in iron and tin machines retain the odors to weaken the hatching chicks.

The Queen has double walls of California Redwood, with insulation between. The Queen hot water system prevents the eggs from drying out and provides ample moisture for the hatching chick. The Queen will come nearer to running itself without any more than ordinary attention than any other incubator made. (1)

Queen Brooders

The Queen Colony Brooder is a new and improved design of brooder stove.

As will be seen from the illustration, the check and draft lids are cast together and operated together. Thus, when the fire is too hot, the water expands and closes the draft and opens the check, both at the same time. When it is too cool, the water contracts and closes the check and opens the draft. This keeps an even heat all the time, night and day, in cold weather or warm, and does it automatically. You don't have to pay any attention to it whatsoever. Just set the regulator for the proper temperature at the start of the season—it will do the rest.

The Queen stove burns any kind of fuel with equally satisfactory results.

NORMAL DEFEATS ILLINOIS COLLEGE

Turn Tables on Blue and White Tossers and Win by Score of 24 to 21—Illinois was Badly off Form.

Illinois Normal turned the tables on Illinois College in David Prince gymnasium Saturday evening, when she won a slow game by a score of 24 to 21. While the game was slow and either team showed any accuracy at the basket, yet it was filled with excitement in the closing moments when Dale who was sent in for Hiatt, tossed two baskets and brought Illinois within trailing distance.

Hiatt, who displayed such good form in the St. Louis game, was badly off and was unable to find the hoop. At the end of the first half the score was 15 to 8 in favor of Normal. Antrobus having scored all of Illinois' points.

At the beginning of the second half Illinois started to show better form and also kept Normal from scoring with such frequency. Then Coach Harmon injected Dale into the fray. The big fellow showed Harmon's judgment was good by speeding up the play and tossing two baskets under great difficulties. Gradually Illinois closed the gap until with eight minutes to play the score was 22 to 21 in favor of Normal.

The crowd was in a frenzy and the play also fast and furious. Normal was showing signs of fatigue and asked for time out. However, Illinois could not keep her work up long enough at a time and the visitors fighting hard, held the lead until the final gun.

Antrobus led the Illinois squad with three field baskets and five free throws. Hiatt, Mellon and Cully each got a basket, while Dale registered two baskets.

For the visitors, Hicks proved the best scorer after he was sent into the game. Butzel who was

WILL NAME BATS FOR U. OF I. PLAYERS

URBANA, Ill., Feb. 11.—University of Illinois diamond stars, like the stars of the major leagues will have bats named after them this season, according to Coach Carl Lundgren, former major league pitcher. The bats are being finished in the wood shops of the university. They will be exact duplicates of the favorite bats of every hitter on last year's squad.

Material for the bats was selected in Canada by Harry Gill, track coach at the University. Only straight grained mountain ash, air dried for two years will be used in the construction of the bats.

Eighteen bats in all are being finished. This gives McCurdy, Vogel and each of the heavy hitters at least one duplicate of his favorite club while some of the heaviest hitters are being furnished with several bats. By securing a large supply of favorite bats, Coach Lundgren is insuring himself against decreased hitting efficiency due to the breaking of a favorite bat.

SECOND GAME OF SERIES MONDAY

Dokays and Knights of Columbus Play at Liberty Hall Tomorrow Night—Both Teams Confident of Victory—Game Starts at 8 o'clock.

Monday evening at 8 o'clock the victorious Dokay basketball team will hit up their Tigers and turning their backs to the setting sun, will travel over the burning sands of East Court street to Liberty hall for the second game of the City independent championship series.

The Knights have polished up their armor, and fitted their helmets out with new plumes. Unfurling the banner of determination to the breeze they have adopted as their slogan, "No more games for the Dokays," and as they are playing on their own home floor they seem to know that they are talking about victory.

However the Dokays have other plans and mean to grab the Monday evening game and thereby win the series without further delay.

Liberty hall has been fixed to hold the largest crowd of fans that has ever witnessed a basketball game there. In addition to this the lighting arrangement has been greatly improved.

The Dokays will march to the Hall in a body, and the K. C. S. are planning a larger turnout than even the last Monday evening game.

This game is creating a great deal of discussion owing to the fact that if the Dokays win it will be the deciding game of the series. However if the Knights are victorious a third game will be played on the near future to decide the championship, either at Liberty hall or David Prince gym.

It is not known just when this game will be played but if it is possible that it will be some time next week.

Science has at last shown how we sometimes grow weak, thin, and emaciated on an abundance of food (lacking in vitamins) while with a much smaller amount of food, rich in vitamins, we may quickly take on good firm flesh, increase in weight, and make a remarkable gain in strength, energy and endurance, provided your blood contains sufficient quantity of oxygenated organic iron to enable your body to assimilate your food properly.

Without organic iron both food and vitamins are absolutely useless as your body cannot change lifeless inert food matter into living cells and tissue unless you have plenty of organic iron in your blood.

For centuries scientists tried in vain to make organic iron. At last the problem was solved so that you may now obtain pure organic iron like the iron in your blood from any druggist under the name of "Nuxated Iron."

It has been arranged to give every purchaser of Nuxated Iron, who wishes to put on flesh or increase weight, a large regular $1.00 package of Genuine Yeast Vitamin Tablets absolutely free. Be sure to take only Nuxated Brand Yeast Vitamin Tablets with Nuxated Iron. Do not be misled by imitations which often contain drugs.

Studebaker

A SIX for the Price of a Four!

You can buy a Studebaker LIGHT-SIX today at a four-cylinder price!

But you cannot buy Studebaker LIGHT-SIX performance in ANY Four.

You get more for your money in the Studebaker LIGHT-SIX than in any other car in the thousand-dollar class. Because:

- (1) Studebaker had the biggest volume in its history in 1921.
- (2) Studebaker sales in 1921 were 29 per cent greater than in 1920 while the total of all other makes was 45 per cent less than in 1920.
- (3) Studebaker is the world's largest builder of six-cylinder cars—builds nothing but sixes.

Studebaker builds the LIGHT-SIX for less than it costs most manufacturers to turn out a four, because it is produced complete in the Studebaker plants.

The average list-price of the better-known fours is $1200. This does not include the high-priced fives. The Studebaker LIGHT-SIX Touring Car lists at only $1045.

Studebaker builds economically and sells at a low price because of continuous large volume, efficient production and skillful purchase of materials.

The new low price of the LIGHT-SIX was established without lowering the quality one iota. Its intrinsic value is unsurpassed in the industry, regardless of price. Today's price of the Studebaker LIGHT-SIX is the lowest at which it has ever been sold.

The Bloomington Pantagraph man recently talked to C. A. Rowe at the University of Illinois, and quotes him as follows in a recent issue:

"C. A. Rowe of Jacksonville, one of the pioneer corn judges, and a widely known corn grower and pig raiser, was seen at the U. of I. short course in agriculture. Asked about his farming under the low prices of the past year, he said that he believed under the low prices of the came out even. He had not made a complete balance sheet, but an examination of his figures convinced him of this. It means a great deal, probably more than he said, when as a farmer and as careful a figure as Mr. Rowe makes such a statement.

"He said that he would not have come out even if he had depended on the corn alone for his returns. A few minutes after Mr. Rowe's statement a Douglas county farmer spoke to the same effect to a Pantagrapher, that he had made something on hogs last year. Confirmation again that the livestock man or the diversified farmer had more chances of success and profit than the man whose whole interest is in grain growing."

DR. J. C. BLAIR TALKS TO WOMAN'S CLUB

Professor of Horticulture at University of Illinois Delivers Interesting Address.

The lecture on "Ornamental Planting," delivered yesterday by Dr. J. C. Blair of the University of Illinois, before the Jacksonville Woman's club, was one of the finest addresses on this subject ever heard in Jacksonville. Dr. Blair, who is the professor of horticulture and head of the department of landscape gardening and floriculture at the University, is a recognized authority on these subjects and his lecture yesterday evidenced Dr. Blair's intimate knowledge of the essentials of community improvement thru the artistry of the landscape gardener.

A large audience assembled in the I. O. O. F. hall on East State street and the meeting proved an interesting one in every respect. Before the address Mrs. Marguerite Palmer Forrester, of the faculty of the College of Music sang a group of songs in her usual charming manner. Her selections were "Dance" by Stange, "Day is Done," by Lang, "Consecration" by Manney. Mrs. Forrester was accompanied by Miss Grace Terhune at the piano.

Mrs. Carl E. Black, chairman of the program committee for the meeting then introduced Dr. Blair. The lecture was illustrated thruout with excellent stereoscopic slides. The first part of Dr. Blair's lecture was devoted to a short historical outline of what has been done in Illinois during the last decades, in the matter of ornamental planting and gardening. With the modern attitude toward this form of community improvement greater progress can be made during the next few years than has been made during the last eighty years Dr. Blair declared.

Many Years Experience.

Dr. Blair has had twenty five years of experience in landscape work at the University and he has done a great deal in the planning of parks and the improvement of residence districts, not only in his own city but also in other states. He emphasized the importance of well planned city parks and said that to attain growth and keep abreast of the times a city must have a well developed system of parks and playgrounds.

Next to the beautifying of city parks, the development of the home grounds is of greatest importance. Not only the interest of the individual, but community interest must be manifest if best results are obtained. The city engineer or other municipal officers often allow sidewalks to be set so close to the street that telegraph poles are made extremely prominent and unsightly and no space is left for lawn and parking. Houses are placed too close to the street to allow room for lawns or ornamental planting and the building line is irregularly observed. Dr. Blair is a strong advocate of zoning laws in Illinois, which would give municipal government the right to regulate these things, and make for more beautiful and well planned cities. Dr. Blair has an office in Chicago and spends one day a week there, giving professional advice in regard to city zoning.

By the use of "before" and "after" slides, Dr. Blair showed what had been accomplished in 10 years in a district where there had been nothing but open "prairie lots." Houses set well back from the street with room for wide lawns and simple artistic shrubbery transformed an ugly, unsightly area into a place of almost unbelievable beauty. The results accomplished by the use of a small quantity of wisely chosen and artistically placed shrubbery show that the work is well worth while. The speaker warned his audience against the over-crowding of shrubbery and outlined the principles for the development of home grounds. He emphasized the advantages of the "Illinois Way" of planting in which the shrubbery is grouped with relation to the buildings, over the "gaudy way" in which the plants and shrubs are scattered promiscuously over the premises.

Beautifying Highways.
A group of slides was then shown illustrating what can be done to beautify highways. A number of beautiful pictures of spots along Illinois roads and water ways and in our native woodland brought out the natural beauty of the Illinois prairie lands.

Other points of civic beauty were brought out in speaking of the development of ornamental planting to screen unsightly spots. Dr. Blair also urged the use of landscape art in beautifying school grounds and thus developing a sense of art and beauty in the children of the country. An other practical suggestion which Jacksonville might well heed, was the plea for a more artistic and slightly "civic front door"—the railroad depot. With the judicious use of a little shrubbery the average unsightly depot may be made a spot of beauty, an invitation and a welcome to those coming into a city.

Following the address a social hour was spent and the hostesses served delicious refreshments. Mrs. J. R. Davis was the chairman of the hostess committee and she was assisted by Mesdames J. J. Roe, Charles Herald, W. O. Baumgartner, W. E. Gilbert, Jeffrey Cleary, Albert Curry, Homer Wood, E. D. Herald and Misses Bessie Harrison and C. E. Mortimer.

DIED FROM TAKING DOSE OF POISON

Mrs. William Hagen Passed Away at Hospital Here—Had Been in Ill Health for Long Period—Funeral Monday at New Berlin.

Mrs. William Hagen died at Passavant hospital at 3:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon as the result of a dose of poison taken with suicidal intent Friday afternoon. Mrs. Hagen's home is about eight miles northeast of Jacksonville. Last year for a number of months Mrs. Hagen was a patient at a sanatorium for the treatment of mental diseases. After her return home members of the family kept a rather close watch upon her as she had symptoms of melancholia.

Friday afternoon Mrs. Hagen was in an upstairs room rocking one of the children. She remained there longer than members of the family expected and one of them went to the room to find her. Entering the room, they noticed that Mrs. Hagen had just taken a drink from a glass, and investigation proved that she had taken a number of tablets containing bicloride of mercury. The tablets had been used in treating an injury which one of the children received recently.

As soon as it was found that Mrs. Hagen had taken the poison a physician was notified and she was brought to Passavant hospital. There Dr. A. M. King attended her and everything possible was done for her relief, but the end came at 5:30 Saturday afternoon.

The remains of Mrs. Hagen were taken to the Funeral Home of W. W. Gillham and Coroner Rose will hold an inquest there today at 1:30 o'clock. After the inquest the body will be taken to the family home northeast of Jacksonville.

Mrs. Hagen's maiden name was Mary F. Horn and her marriage to William L. Hagen took place Feb. 1, 1911 at New Berlin. The deceased is survived by her husband and three children, William, Arthur and Genevieve. She leaves also three brothers, Henry Horn of Alexander and Carl and William Horn of New Berlin.

The deceased during her mature years was a faithful member of the Lutheran church at New Berlin. The funeral will be held at that church Monday afternoon at 1 o'clock, in charge of Rev. J. G. Kuppler. Interment will be made in New Berlin cemetery.

ROMANCE OF SUCCESS IS TOLD IN THE LIFE OF MARSHALL FIELD

Started as Clerk in Store When Twenty Two Years of Age at $400 a Year Salary—
In Eight Years Was Head of a Large Business—Incessant Work Brought Success

(By The Associated Press)

CHICAGO, Feb. 11.—The romance of success "of a big business genius who had toiled so incessantly to win his way as though toil alone would do it," is told in a sketch of Marshall Field, pioneer Chicago merchant, by Thomas W. Goodspeed in the current issue of the University of Chicago Record.

Coming to Chicago when the city's "business district" had not yet been lifted up out of the mud, from Massachusetts where his early years had been spent on his father's farm and as a clerk in a small town store, Marshall Field at thirty was at the head of a great business which he continued to expand and dominate for the rest of his life.

Beginning in Chicago at twenty-two as a $400 a year clerk in three years he had made his way into a partnership in a large and prosperous dry goods concern, and in five years more was heading a large business.

Born in 1834 on his father's farm near Conway, Mass., Mr. Field soon tired of farm life and in 1851 became a clerk in the store of Deacon Davis of Pittsfield, Mass.

"Marshall opened and closed the store, put up the shutters at night and prepared the store for business," writes Mr. Goodspeed. "He did not at the outset show much promise to Deacon Davis. He was very quiet and unassuming, timid and ill at ease in his strange surroundings, and the oft-repeated story is true that his employer concluded and did not hesitate to say that he would never make a merchant."

The growth of Chicago at the beginning of the latter half of the last century caused ambitious young men to dream of it as the place where their business talent might find scope. The name of "Chicago" spelled opportunity to Marshall Field, and at the end of five years in Pittsfield he informed

Jacksonville Expects to Take a Big Delegation—W. E. Sullivan Will Drive the Pilot Car.

Word has been received from General Manager Clarkson of the Ocean to Ocean Highway Association, that Decatur is straining every effort to have the largest delegation at the meeting of the association to be held in Springfield Monday, February 13th, when General Pershing will make a speech.

Jacksonville is going to answer those plans if the citizens turn out and back the efforts for the Jacksonville delegation. There should be a representation of five hundred at least. The plans for the trip are all complete, with Col. O. C. Smith the chairman in charge.

The pilot car driven by W. E. Sullivan, president of the Morgan County Good Roads Association, will take its station on the north side of the square in front of the Phelps Dry Goods Store at 8 o'clock in the morning. The other machines will then form in a line in back of the pilot car. Dick Wheeler and Fred Barr will number the cars and distribute hat cards and lapel cards to all the delegates. Stanley Wright and John Larson will be the official starters. By 8:30 the last car should have left the city.

When the pilot car reaches the hard road leading into Springfield, it will stop and wait until all of the Jacksonville cars have come up into line. The entire line will then proceed in close formation through the business district of Springfield, and then to the Jennings Auto Sales company, on Fourth street and Jackson streets. The cars will be stored there free of charge, and the delegation will form by twos and headed by a drum corps will march to the Arsenal, where the meeting is to be held. On arriving at the Arsenal the delegation will remain in a body so that proper demonstration can be made and the number of representatives counted.

The Chamber of Commerce is trying to obtain the Illinois College Band of thirty pieces for the trip. The band in uniform, swinging along with the rest of the delegation will add greatly to the appearance.

This trip is not only for the men. Ladies are welcome. The bigger the representation of both, the better for Jacksonville.

The following are the rules of procedure:

- 1—The Pilot Car will carry two banners bearing the words "Pilot Car" so you will know which one it is.
- 2—Please do not, under any circumstances, pass the Pilot Car on the Road.
- 3—Please Keep Your Place, going according to the number assigned to you.
- 4—When the Pilot Car reaches the Hard Road entering Springfield it will stop to permit all cars to line up behind it so that a showing can be made going into Springfield.
- 5—On arrival at Springfield, follow the Pilot Car through the business district to the Jennings Auto Sales Company at the corner of Fourth and Jackson streets where your car will be stored without charge.
- 6—The Jacksonville Delegation will fall in line at this place and march in a body to the Arsenal.
- 7—Return after the meeting as you please.

ROMANCE

Romance is a dainty maiden,
Rose tint cheeks and blue eyes mild.
There are those who pass her, see not—
Thinking her a bashful child.

Romance is a queen full regal;
Swishing silks and dignity.
We quite envy those who know her—
But she's not for you or me.

Romance flashes round a corner
Unexpected, quick surprise;
We admire, we throb, we wonder—
Then she's gone before our eyes.

Somehow we are never ready,
Slow of wit or faint of heart;
When We've passed her, we remember
That we could have played a part.

So there's nothing left for dulleards
But to live and toil away;
While we're plodding, hoping, dreaming,
We may know her yet—some day.

Eastern Central States Fair Says Babson

Famous Economist Sees 1922 Better Than 1921 in Most Localities

Continuing his personal survey of the business of the country, Roger W. Babson, statistician and business advisor to 15,000 of the country's leading executives reports his findings on the central eastern states as follows:

"New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore, and the other large cities south of New England, prosper largely from three sources:

1. Foreign Trade, the sale of goods to foreign countries even though the goods came from the interior of the country.
2. Jobbing, that is the distribution of merchandise to retailers in the tributary territory.
3. Investments, including the interest received from stocks and bonds, together with the profits involved in purchases and sales of securities.

"There is of course a certain amount of manufacturing in these cities—especially of garments and clothing, but they are not primarily industrial cities.

Foreign trade is severely crippled for sometime to come. Certainly 1922 will show no better than 1921. Therefore we may expect very little income from this source.

"The jobbers will hold their own in 1922 and should have an increase in orders. Although retailers are doing comparatively little business yet their stocks are low, and they must buy a certain amount of goods whether they want to or not. If the retailers would only cut prices further, which could be done by a decrease in operating expenses, the jobbers would have good business in 1922.

"The real improvement, however, which New York and these other cities are to witness will come about thru financial conditions. The bond issues should be very good in 1922. The stock market should work upwards and there may be even an old fashioned boom before the year comes to a close. Deals and consolidations will be put thru, dividends will be resumed and other things will happen which should enhance the value of securities. Of course, no wealth is really produced by these increased prices, but they affect the prosperity on these cities. All stock market activity always brings money from the interior of the country into the cities and most of it fails to remain there. The small interior towns furnish the lumber; the cities do the shearing; and the wool remains in the cities to swell the bank clearings and be registered as prosperity. The eastern cities will see much more of this money in 1922 than they have seen for some years.

"In a similar way the entire states of New York, Pennsylvania and those others in this eastern group prosper likewise. With the exception of steel cities which will find another quiet year in 1922, the rest of this eastern section should feel better. Agriculturally these states simply feed their own cities with dairy products, vegetables and some grain.

The central part of New York has considerable manufacturing and most of these cities will fare better in 1922. The same is true of Pennsylvania and the other sections.

"The electrical industry of Schenectady and Pittsburgh should soon begin to feel the good effects of easy money. Railroads and public utilities of various kinds are only waiting for low interest rates in order that they may sell bonds before giving large orders for electrical equipment industry. It should be remembered that after New England, the next section to be hit by the depression of 1920-21 was this portion of the country of which I am writing today. For this very reason, however, New York, Pennsylvania and adjoining states will be the first to follow New England in her recovery. Hence the outlook in these states will be fair. HOG BREEDERS MET SATURDAY AFTERNOON

Will Hold Sale of Registered Stock Here February 18.

The Poland-China and Duroc breeders associations held a meeting at the rooms of the Latta Hotel Saturday afternoon. The meeting was in the interest of the coming sale of registered stock to be offered here February 18th.

The promoters of these breeds are making preparations for a successful sale and realize to do so they must offer the best animals they have raised the past season. The offering will consist of sows and gilts of these breeds from the various presentative herds in the county and should interest all who desire to have improved live stock pushed in Morgan county to the place it really belongs.

A catalog of the offerings has been issued and is being distributed. Many visiting stockmen are expected to attend this sale.

TRANSPLANTS THIRTY YEARS OLD MAPLE

Excavating, transporting and transplanting a thirty year old hard maple tree was successfully accomplished in Jacksonville recently by J. Cogswell. The tree was estimated about forty feet in height. When its roots and earth clinging to them were excavated and placed on a stone boat the combined weight was estimated to be eleven tons.

Four horses were thought to be sufficient to move the load but it was found they were not able to transport the load and a big truck was commissioned to complete the trip. Transplanting the tree into its new home was accomplished without injury and it is thought that the tree will not experience any setback in its growth. The transport to new quarters required an excavation of a hole five feet deep and eight feet in diameter to set the big maple back to mother earth.

BANDIT'S OFFER TO SURRENDER RECALLS TROUBLE WITH U. S.

Raisuli's Kidnaping of American Citizen
Was Cause of Sending Warships to Tangier
—Secretary of State Hays' Ultimatum
Was "Perdicaris Alive or Raisuli Dead"

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 11.—Raisuli, the Moorish bandit who has just again offered to surrender to the Spanish military forces which are pushing an active campaign against him in Morocco, is the man who once drew the United States into action in that vexed corner of the world.

He figured in that celebrated incident when Secretary of State John Hay demanded "Perdicaris alive or Raisuli dead."

That was 17 years ago, in 1904. Raisuli had captured Ion Perdicaris, a naturalized American citizen and kept him prisoner. President Roosevelt sent a fleet of eight American war vessels stripped for action into Tangier Harbor while John Hay sent his famous message to the feeble Sultan in nominal command there.

Raisuli, who now says he is "too fat to fight" had long been a leader of the wild tribesmen who have frequently swamped the trained battalions of a civilized power.

Perdicaris, a wealthy man, was close to ruining his erstwhile captor, Raisuli. He got into a quarrel with the Sultan about his governorship, was thrown out, and promptly retaliated by bearing off for ransom Kaid Sir Henry McLean, British commander of the Moroccan army. He arrived his tribesmen for battle, and descended upon the coast, doing much damage to European interests, and in 1907, succeeded in setting all the hair-triggers in European diplomacy.

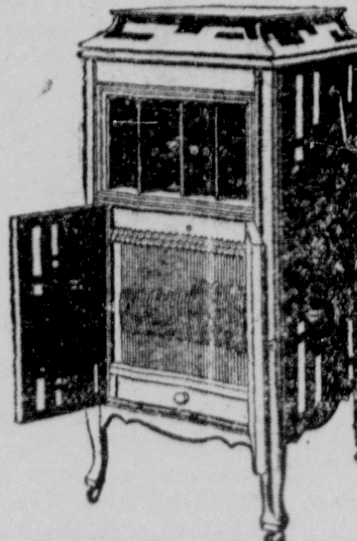

The French navy bombarded one of his captive towns, Casablanca, the now practically extinct Kaiser Wilhelm came to bat snuffing undue French expansion in prospect, but the matter was straightened out in a council chamber instead of on a battlefield. Raisuli was chased back to his mountain fastness, but news dispatches every few years recall another of his eruptions.

"In many respects the man interested and attracted me in spite of all my natural motives for Prosperity, however, came

Just a rude log cabin Standing back among the trees, Just a song of the whip-poor-will A buzzing of the bees; A lad, "Honest Abe," folks called him Dwelt within this palace grand, Ruled each day with true devotion And a mother's helping hand.

All the cares and hardships Abe met them with a smile, And to aid the sick or needy Would gladly walk a mile; Toiling hard both day and night To educate his mind, Most times his own instructor With his own mill to grind.

"Ashoo is a boat-girl of Kashmir; Soubahna is her boatman lover. From the bright orchards of Bijbehara they carry their golden fruit down Jhelum River to the bazaars of Springar.

Ashoo, in her lover's absence, is given in marriage by her eager parents to a rich silversmith, dwelling in the city. The soft silks and the gay trinkets which the bridegroom sends to deck his bride, blind Ashoo to her fate—a loveless marriage.

Soubahna, returning unexpectedly to Springar a few hours later, learns what has taken place. Mad with jealousy, he waits the fall of night that he may seek revenge. Ashoo looks out up the river from her lattice, her heart is full of sorrow and despair.

But down the waterway a boat is drifting, a well-loved voice is floating o'er the river.

Back to the lotus field Soubahna bears her, for love and freedom of all things are best. Back where the blue-birds sing amongst the roses, where the blue Kingfisher flits over Jhelum.

ROMANCE OF SUCCESS IS TOLD IN THE LIFE OF MARSHALL FIELD

$400." Marshall Field's rise was rapid.

Taking up the period of the middle 60's when Mr. Field with J. S. Leiter purchased the Potter Palmer business, the firm being known as Field, Palmer and Leiter, Mr. Goodspeed says:

Methods of Field.
"Some of Mr. Field's methods of conducting business were well known. The store was a one-price store, the price being plainly marked on the goods. Sales were for cash, or in the case of well-accredited customers, on thirty or sixty days' time. Mr. Field made it a rule not to advertise in the Sunday papers. He felt that this, with the practice of lowering the curtains of their display windows from Saturday night to Monday morning made for better citizenship."

"On becoming the head of the new firm he at once made it his business to become acquainted with every employee in the store."

In the autumn of 1871, Field, Leiter & Company, as the firm was then known, was wiped out in the great Chicago fire, but the concern bought the car barns of the Chicago City Railway company and within a little over a fortnight, again was in operation.

"Down State street to Twentieth," the writer quotes an account appearing in a Chicago newspaper at the time, "and here is the largest dry goods store in the city or the west—Field, Leiter and Company. Here are hundreds of clerks and thousands of patrons a day busy along the spacious aisles and the vast vistas of ribbons and laces and cloaks and dress goods. Yet this immense bazaar was, six weeks ago, the horsebarn of the South Side Railway. Here, where ready-made dresses hang, then hung sets of double harness. Yonder, where a richly robed body leans languidly across the counter a stranger stood and offered hospitality to a disconsolate horse."

In 1881, Mr. Leiter, who with Mr. Field had bought the Palmer business in 1865, left the firm, which then became Marshall Field and company.

Gets Good Lieutenants.
"In the management of this rapidly developing business, Mr. Field surrounded himself with a succession of capable lieutenants," writes Mr. Goodspeed. "He seems to have been always on the lookout for such men among his employees. When ability and efficiency were discovered they were rewarded by promotion. The men who became partners all rose from the ranks. Money could not buy a partnership. As the partners grew older and accumulated wealth it was Mr. Field's custom to purchase their interest that he might give younger men of outstanding ability and promise a place in the firm."

Mr. Field's death in 1906 was caused by pneumonia resulting from a cold contracted while playing golf on a snow covered field. Mr. Goodspeed's account reads:

Takes Severe Cold.
"On New Year's day, 1906, James Simpson, now vice-president of the corporation, and Stanley Field went out to Wheaton to play golf. The snow was nearly knee-deep and they played with red balls. Soon Mr. Field and Robert T. Lincoln appeared and played round the course. The very vigorous exercise in the deep snow had greatly exhilarated Mr. Field and all the way back he seemed in an unusually cheerful frame of mind. But it soon became apparent that he had taken cold. He had arranged to go to New York the first week in January. Mr. Simpson seeing the hold the cold had taken, told him he ought not to go. 'Pshaw,' he replied, 'I am as young as you are,' and made light of it. But it grew upon him and he reached New York a sick man. He rapidly grew worse, and died on January 16."

"According to the best estimate I have been able to secure his estate at the time of his death amounted to about $120,000,000."

An interesting light on Mr. Field's personality is thrown by the writer, who says:

"Prosperity never made him vain. Wealth did not make him proud. He was fond of good horses and a handsome carriage, but he would never permit his coachman to drive him to business. He would, when he used his carriage, leave it and return to it at some distance from the store to avoid the appearance of ostentation."

"When in Chicago his ordinary daily routine was as follows: He left home at about 9 o'clock to walk down town, with his coachman driving the carriage behind him. Walking a block or two north Mr. Pullman joined him and they walked down to the Pullman building together. Here he stopped for a few minutes and then went on to the retail store. "From the retail store he would go on to the wholesale office. Here he spent the rest of the day until 4 o'clock."

In observance of Lincoln's Birthday, a Legal Holiday, the banks of this city will not be open for business on Monday, February 13.

BANDIT'S OFFER TO SURRENDER RECALLS TROUBLE WITH U. S.

dislike," Perdicaris says of Ralsuli in the Geographic Society's report. "Ralsuli was gracious and dignified, not to us only, but to his own wild adherents, who evidently idolized their chieftain, whose position among them seemed that of a head of a highland clan in cliden times. He was quick to see the humorous aspect of a situation, while his repartee was as immediate and to the point as though he had been born in the county Galway."

"I found myself unconsciously accepting his contention that he was not a mere brigand or cattle-lifter, but a patriot struggling to lift his Berber followers from the tyranny of corrupt officials. His charm of voice, the natural pose and dignity of his manner, his self-control under provocation, all betrayed a superior character."

Perdicaris remarks that "Ralsuli could not bear to hear a child cry," but there was a fiercer background for the tribesman's motivation. Cromwell Varley, stepson to Perdicaris, was cracked over the head in the raid on the American's summer home, and both men were forced to ride many miles in tight bonds."

"It was in connection with the framing of the ultimatum 'Perdicaris alive or Ralsuli dead' that a trusted correspondent of The Associated Press in Washington is concerned." The Geographic Society Bulletin remarks, "Being entrusted with preparing a message for President Roosevelt to sign, Mr. Hay did so, and submitted it to his friend, the newspaperman, for his opinion. 'Well, it may be diplomatic, but the Sultan will never get you in the midst of all those words,' was in effect the newspaperman's verdict. 'Why not say what you mean, and no more, Mr. Secretary?' Perdicaris alive or Ralsuli dead."

"The secretary agreed. President Roosevelt approved. And the Sultan so far 'got' this succinct American demand that he abandoned all usual oriental indirection."

INCOME TAX FACTS

The requirement to file an income tax return is based on the person's status, marital and otherwise, on the last day of the taxable year—December 31, 1921—if the return is filed on a calendar year basis. If on that day a person was single, or married and not living with husband or wife, a return is required if the net income for 1921 was $1,000 or more, or if the gross income was $5,000 or more. If married, and living with husband or wife on that date, a return is required if the net income was $2,000 or more, or if the gross income was $5,000 or more. Widows, widowers, and persons divorced, from husband or wife, or separated by mutual agreement are classed as single persons.

A married couple living together is entitled to an exemption of $2,500 or $2,000, according to whether their net income was $5,000 or less or more than $5,000; even though the wedding may have taken place on December 30. The bride and groom, however, must file a return if the combined net income of both during the year equalled or exceeded $2,000, or if the combined gross income equalled or exceeded $5,000. They may have known one another only a few weeks before the ceremony, joins them for a full year for income tax purposes. Either separately or a joint return may be filed.

Widows and Widowers.
 A widow or widower is not required to show on an individual return the income of husband or wife who died during the year up to the date of death. The income of a deceased person is considered separately with respect to the filing of a return by an executor or administrator. The deceased is entitled to exemption for the full year based upon his status at the time of death.

A single person who is the head of a family is entitled to an exemption of $2,000 or $2,500 according to the amount of his net income, if on December 31 he was supporting in one household one or more relatives. If, however, the support of such relatives ceased during the year he is allowed an exemption of only $1,000. The same rule applies with respect to dependents, a person dependent upon the taxpayer for chief support and under 18 years of age, or incapable of self support because mentally or physically defective. If such dependency ceased prior to December 31, 1921, the $400 exemption for dependents does not apply. Boys and girls who become self-supporting during the year, and whose parents do not or may not appropriate their earnings, form a new class of taxpayers. Each, if single, must file a return if the net income for 1921 was $1,000 or more, or if the gross income was $5,000 or more.

ILLINOIS COLLEGE NOTES
 The Rev. A. P. Howells of the Baptist church, gave an interesting and forceful address on the subject of "Prayer at the College Chapel" Wednesday morning. The recent address by President Ozora S. Davis, of the Chicago Theological Seminary, and the one on Wednesday by Rev. Howells, were part of the exercises held at the college in connection with the observance of the week of prayer.

As a result of the semester examinations nine students were dropped from the college under the fifty percent rule which requires students to pass at least one-half of their work in order to remain in college.

William E. Hull, who has announced his candidacy for congress from the Peoria district, was formerly a student in Whipple Academy.

Karl B. Hill, '18, has charge of the tire department of a large company in Hilo, Hawaii. He writes that the tire sales of this company average $12,000 a month.

The Springfield alumni are planning to hold their annual banquet about the 27th of February. The president of the Springfield Alumni association this year is Dr. Clifford G. Maxwell, '08.

Merrill Landess, a freshman at the college this year, has been ill for the past week, but his friends will be glad to know that he is improving.

William Graham, '25, was called home Thursday on account of the serious illness of his mother.

Mrs. Ollie Parker of West State street, is visiting friends and relatives in Louisiana, Mo., for several days. She is expected to return the first of next week.

BIG MUSICAL COMEDY COMING TO THE GRAND

After viewing the colorful magnificence, the really gorgeous costumes adorning that flock of menus limbed "peaches" and having laughed heartily over the fun created by a squad of industrious and talented comedians in Fanchon and Marco's "Sun-Kist" "I feel like rising up and shouting "I told you so—" says Walter A. Rivers in his review in the San Francisco "Bulletin." This same big production is scheduled for the Grand theatre, one night only, Thursday, Feb. 16th.

Pep is the keynote of this super revue. Pep was also the outstanding feature of "Let's Go," the famous revue previously staged by this same pair of producers, but there the similarity ends. This seasons offering is the most pretentious ever staged on the Pacific Coast and is brand new in idea, staging and costuming.

There is a real plot, the struggles of a Texas oil king, who labors under the impression that he can produce a feature film, being the thread on which the story runs. There is a world of humorous and brilliant true numbers follow each other in almost breathless rapidity. In several of these numbers Si Layman and Helen Kling, who as dancers, easily hold the palm of the stage today show new and elegant dance creations.

The girls, "peaches," a bevy of California beauties of extreme youth, wear costumes in keeping with their sunny state. The hitting music and catchy lyrics are from the pens of Fanchon and Marco. The costumes are declared to be the most gorgeous ever worn in a revue of this kind. They are from the shops of Lester, at Chicago. "Fanchon", who with her brother, Marco, produced, "Sun-Kist"—"is a match for even Ziegfeld in finding youthful beauties for the stage," declared Thomas Nunan in his review in the San Francisco Examiner.

BETTER TIMES

SAY, LISTEN! Better times are not "on the way"—they are here now, if you'll only just think so for a little while. In times like these, when the banks are bulging with coin, and there's plenty of food and clothing in the country, and only the average amount of sickness, "Tough Times," "Slow Times," "Everything Stagnant Times," are just a state of mind—an unhealthy state, too. If we'll all "snap out of it" and go ahead and spend our dollars as we did when our state of mind said "Normal Times," we'll have what we want, and the others will get what they want, because dollars will be circulating freely once more. THINK IT OVER. And don't forget our

U's will again assume their regular meetings at 6:30 Sunday night. The subject is: "Christian Principles in Buying and Selling." The sermon subject at the evening service at 7:30 will be, "If Lincoln Lived Today." At the close of the evening sermon the pastor will illustrate how Lincoln's parents were baptised. The last lap of the track is just ahead. The Epworth League is making fine progress in the study of John Wesley, Jr., the mission study text book that is different from all others. Best Battery for Winter Use

COLD weather driving makes heavier demands upon any storage battery. Engines are stiff—oil is sluggish—gasoline vaporizes slowly—lights burn longer—and the severe cold tends to cause battery deterioration. Only a battery of maximum power and vitality can meet these demands.

The Prest-O-Lite Storage Battery has proven in the toughest of cold weather tests, to be by far the best battery for winter use.

Why be satisfied with anything short of the best? There's a Prest-O-Lite for every car.

REO

SPEED WAGON

Fits Every Business

It is an amazing fact and a high tribute to Reo experience and Reo engineering, that this Speed Wagon has not only invaded but conquered, and today absolutely dominates every field of hauling and carrying and delivering.

Prior to the advent of this Speed Wagon, the work it does today was divided among several widely diversified types and sizes of motor trucks.

By its wonderful adaptability—its versatility—its ability to cover territory—its absolute dependability and surprisingly low up-keep—this pneumatic tired Reo has gone from one kind of service to another and proven it will do any and all forms of carrying quicker and cheaper.

HIGH PRICES ON THE WHEAT MARKET

By Associated Press. CHICAGO, Feb. 11.—Highest prices on the present upturn in the wheat market were realized today but a sag was noted just at the close.

However, the resting spots were $1 to $1 1/2 higher with May at $1.33 to $1.35 and July at $1.17 to $1.18. Corn closed 1/2c lower to 1c higher while oats finished unchanged to 1/2c higher.

With a double holiday ahead there was considerable evening up in the wheat market and May sold at a new high on the present upturn and the average for the day was higher. Reports of the continued drought in the southwest and the fact that the forecast suggested no moisture in Kansas over night were effective influences.

Corn and oats held within narrow limits with a general disposition to even up for the holidays on the part of the local element.

Buenos Aires corn closed 2 1/2c higher but this had little effect here. Oats were dull with commission houses fair sellers.

The provision market was dull with prices little changed.

CASH GRAIN REPORT

By Associated Press. CHICAGO, Feb. 11.—Demand for cash wheat was somewhat better today and mills took a little wheat on this advance. Country offerings of corn were not as large as of late and there was a lessening of hedging pressure.

The cash basis for what was firm but unchanged for corn and oats.

Car lot receipts: Wheat, 23; Corn, 537; Oats, 100. Cash sales here were: 8,000 bushels of wheat, 16,000 bushels of corn, including 125,000 bushels to exporters; 90,000 bushels of oats, and 1,500 bushels of barley.

UNCERTAIN TENDENCIES RULED STOCK MARKET

By Associated Press. NEW YORK, Feb. 11.—Uncertain tendencies ruled today's abbreviated stock market session. The approaching double holiday and dissatisfaction over proposed future tax legislation held down trading.

Several speculative favorites in the industrial and special divisions, particularly Gulf States Steel were under constant pressure, closing at material recessions, but losses otherwise held within one point limits. Some junior rails retained most of their recent gains and a few utilities including People's Gas were active and strong.

Sales totaled 275,000 shares.

ARENZVILLE WOMAN IS LAID TO REST

Remains of Mrs. Elizabeth Bates Vanherck Interred With Impressive Services—Other Arenzville News.

Arenzville, Feb. 10.—Funeral services for the late Mrs. Elizabeth Bates Vanherck were held Sunday afternoon at the Presbyterian church, in charge of Rev. W. R. Marbach of Jacksonville. The floral offerings were very beautiful and were in charge of relatives of the deceased.

Music was furnished by Mrs. J. W. Swope, Mrs. Will Divers, Mrs. Sue Weeks, Miss Mary Schaffer and Charles Schaffer, with Joseph Dreasbach as accompanist. The pall bearers were, Robert Hierman, Charles Houston, Myrl Hierman, Gary Eberhart, Gale Hierman and Lawrence Wessler. At the cemetery the bereaved had charge of the services.

The deceased was born in this city about twenty-four years ago and she was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Bates. She passed away at 1 o'clock Friday morning, Feb. 3, at the home of her parents. Her entire life was spent in this community and she was known and esteemed by a large number. The deceased was interred with the Presbyterian church in 1918 and her life was one which fully accorded with the teachings of that denomination.

The deceased is survived by her husband, her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Bates, of Springfield, Miss Eloise Bates of Springfield, and one brother, Paul Bates, at home.

J. A. Weeks was a business caller at Jacksonville Wednesday.

John Schwoer was a Beards-town business visitor recently and also visited there with his daughter, Mrs. Arthur Schmidt and family.

John Berger, wife and son, Myrl, of Jacksonville, were Sunday dinner guests of the parents of Mrs. Berger, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Zahn.

Mrs. Walter Williamson, of near Concord, spent Monday with Mrs. William Divers.

Fred Engelbach and William Thomas were Virginia business visitors Wednesday.

Mrs. Thomas Eaton of Tulsa, Okla., was called here by the death of her niece, the late Mrs. Elizabeth Vanherck.

Mr. Vanherck of Missouri, was called here by the death of his daughter-in-law, Mrs. Elizabeth Vanherck.

Mrs. Carrie Meyer and John Johnson and William Witte were business visitors in Virginia recently.

Mrs. Henry Zahn entertained the Missionary society of the M. E. church at her home Thursday afternoon. There was a good attendance and an interesting program was presented.

Mr. Thivovogt was a business visitor in Virginia one day this week.

COLLEGE OF MUSIC NOTES

The appearance of Miss Alma Mehus, pianist, and Miss Margaret Morris, violinist, both of Chicago, in recital in March, under the auspices of "Young Artist Recitals" which will be continued next year. The plan is to bring young artists here in recital—artists who are still in their teens and who are blessed with a spark of genius and that infinite capacity for work, which gives to their playing the maturity of years but still retains the spontaneity and joyousness of youth. Further announcement of the Mehus-Morris recital will be made next week.

Audrey King, violinist, Christine Cotner, pianist, Mary Lois Clark, soprano, Mary Rose Adams, reader, gave a short program at a recent meeting of the Parent Teachers' association at the Franklin school.

Mrs. Lorest, accompanied by Miss Grace Torlune, sang a group of songs at the meeting of the Woman's club Saturday afternoon.

Miss Belle Mehus, pianist, and Mrs. Forrest, soprano, will appear in joint recital Thursday evening, March 9, at Music hall, the last of the series of faculty recitals.

Negotiations have just been completed whereby Misses Miller, Hornebrugh and Sappio will appear in recital at Devatur, Ill., as one number of a concert series there.

Jacksonville will in all probability have the opportunity of hearing Dr. Teterius Noble, famous organist of St. Thomas church of New York in recital here some time in May. Definite announcement will be made later. "A doll recital," so called because every number has "doll" for its subject will be given at Music hall Saturday afternoon February 18 at 2:30 by pupils of Misses Larimore, Hornebrugh, Sappio, Mehus and Martin. The public is cordially invited.

Miss Myrna Sharlow, prima donna, who will appear in recital at Music hall, Monday February 27th, second of the Artist Series, has appeared with unusual success in opera in Boston, New York, Chicago, Paris, London, St. Paul, St. Louis and other cities both here and abroad. Miss Sharlow is now but twenty-eight years old and she has often found her youth a handicap especially since she sang her first primadonna role when but nineteen years of age. In spite of donning long earrings and a train, she was named the "baby of the opera" and many of the Italian opera singers with whom she was associated, still refer to her as "the Bombina." Miss Sharlow's concert successes are equally as great as her operatic ones.

The average adult inhales about 50 cubic inches of air at every breath.

MARKHAM

The G. T. S. club held their regular meeting Wednesday with Mrs. Fred Carter, and there was a full attendance. An unusually good program was enjoyed by all, and also the elaborate refreshments. The next meeting will be held with Mrs. R. H. Blimling. Mrs. M. L. Watt is still confined to her bed, but her condition is slightly improved.

Oliver Stout is another victim of the prevailing epidemic. Mrs. R. B. Marshall shows a little improvement in her condition.

WILL GIVE TASTE OF COLLEGE LIFE

John Weber Jr., and Grace Loveland, boarding school students and sweethearts, will give Jacksonville a taste of real college life during "The Masquerade Party," on February 16 and 17. John Weber Jr., returning from school, is accompanied by his sweetheart, Grace, under the escort of a strict chaperon. In honor of Grace, John Jr. invites a number of their fellow students to his home. Together they plan a masquerade party, in which the unsuspecting Father and Mother Weber, as well as the village parson and the chaperon, are prevailed upon to take part. It turns out to be a real masquerade—a comedy of errors—during which the ingenuity of John Jr. and his accomplices, the otherwise sedate parson and the everstrict chaperon are brought together, and in company with Father and Mother Weber forget, for the time being their dignity and join in the frolic of the young folks.

Felix Farrell and Esther Davis will be seen as John Weber Jr. and Grace Loveland, and will surely captivate their audience with the beautiful duet and their excellent numbers. Both these young people have starred in previous offerings at Jacksonville home talent, and have established an enviable reputation for themselves, which is sure to be more firmly established after the masquerade party.
